TVCC proudly acknowledges the invaluable contributions of our full-time faculty, adjunct faculty, and part-time instructors, whose expertise, commitment, and passion for student success significantly enhance the quality of our academic programs.

THE ACADEMIC APPAREL

The following information may prove helpful in identifying the apparel you may see in the Commencement Procession.

The present-day academic apparel seems to have originated in the 1300s at the English Universities of Oxford and Cambridge.

As the universities passed from church control, the academic gown used brighter colors to distinguish it from the totally drab clerical robe.

Although American universities used academic gowns based on the British system, people continued to associate them with the clergy.

Associate's, bachelor's, and master's gowns are untrimmed. Doctoral gowns are faced with black velvet or the color associated with the degree, with three bars across the sleeves. Of the three components, the hood is the most interesting. Originally, it had three uses: as a head covering, as a shoulder cape and as a bag in which alms could be collected. It is mentioned as early as 1480 in clerical literature. When large wigs were in vogue in Britain, the cape part of the hood was allowed to fall back as it is today, and it was never restored to the original style.

The hoods differ in length for the master's and doctor's degrees and are lined with the official colors of the college or university conferring the degree, usually with one color forming a chevron pattern over the other.

The hood colors of the seven Oregon universities are: Western Oregon University, crimson and gray; Southern Oregon University, red and black; Eastern Oregon University, blue and gold; University of Oregon, green and gold; Oregon State University, orange and black; Portland State University, green and white and Oregon Institute of Technology, blue and gold.

Hoods are edged and bound with velvet of the color appropriate for the degree.

THE HOOD COLORS

The hood colors associated with the different subjects are as follows:

Apricot	Nursing
Brown	Fine Arts
Citron	Social Work
Copper	Economics
Crimson	Journalism
Dark Blue	Philosophy
Sapphire Blue	Business
Golden Yellow	Science
Gray	Veterinary Science
Lemon Yellow	Library Science
Light Blue	Education
Maize	Agriculture
Orange	Engineering
Pink	Music
Purple	Law
Russet	Forestry
Sage Green	Physical Education
Scarlet	Theology
Silver Gray	Speech
White	Arts, Letters, Humanities

The black tassels are worn on the left side of the caps; gold may be used to represent an honor graduate.

The President and The Board of Education Members will lead the processional followed by the Faculty and Student Marshalls.

The Associate of Arts Candidates will precede the Candidates for the Associate of Science, Associate of Applied Science and Certificates.
